Our Nations Pride

On History's crimson pages, high upon the roll of Fame
The story of Old Glory burns in deathless words of flame.
'Twas cradled in war's blinding smoke, amid the roar of guns,
It's lullabies were battle-cries—the shouts of freedom's sons.

It is the old Red, White, and Blue, proud emblem of the free.
It is the flag that floats about our land of liberty;
Then greet it where you meet it, boys, the flag that waves on high.
And hats off all along the line when freedom's flag goes by;

Uncover when the flag goes by, boys,
'Tis freedom's starry banner that you greet.
Flag famed in song and story,
Long may it wave, Old Glory,
The flag that has never known defeat!

All honor to the Stars and Stripes, our glory and our pride,
All honor to the flag for which our fathers fought and died;
On many a blood-stained battle field, on many a gory sea
It's stars have triumphed evermore—triumphant may they be;
And if again mid shot and shell it's folds must be unfurled
God grant that we may keep it still unstained before the world;
All hail the flag we love! May it victorious ever fly,
And hats off all along the line when Freedom's flag goes by!

Uncover when the flag goes by, boys,
'Tis freedom's starry banner that you greet,
Flag famed in song and story,
Long may it wave, Old Glory,
The flag that has never known defeat.

Our Emblem

When I think of the Flag which those ships carry, the only touch of color about them, the only thing that moves as if it had a settled spirit in it, in their solid structure, it seems to me I see alternate strips of parchment upon which are written the rights of Liberty and Justice and strips of blood spilled to vindicate those rights, and then, in the corner, a prediction of the blue serene into which every nation may swim which stands for these great things.

Woodrow Wilson

Three years ago President Wilson issued a proclamation requesting that June 14, the anniversary of the day on which the national emblem was adopted by congress, be observed as FLAG DAY throughout the nation, for the purpose of perpetuating the history and significance of the Stars and Stripes, Nutting of Tampa, Florida and Miss C. M. Preston, Artist for the Colorado University, will also be present.

What The Flag Means

The Flag means more to America in the year 1919 than it has ever meant before in our lives. And why? Not surely because it is more familiar. Nor yet because it floats over hosts of soldiers and mighty fleets. There were soldiers and fleets before. Not therefore, because of its new part in the panoply of war.

It means more to us because we have put more into it. Because after years of peace and plenty in which we thought of our flag chiefly as something to protect and guard us, we have in time of war and grief and hardship learned to know our flag as something for us to protect and serve. A flag in short, is as great as its people—no greater. When they are great generous and courageous, it is great and beautiful and holy. When they falter and haggle their flag is less than nothing to them, as to the world at large. Ours is to love and cherish and die for in the greatest of causes! Therefore a source of pride and of deep emotion to every American. That is the lesson we are learning in these days of sacrifice and devotion and when a flying bit of color becomes the most glorious and joyous and sacred thing in the whole wide world.

H. C. Smith from Hoboken New Jersey is home on a ten days furlough this week.

"WHEN THE BOSS IS AWAY"

I tied the Tin-can to the Boss
And sent him off to rest;
And though I realize the loss,
I know it's for the best.

To swim has been his greatest wish,
He wrote he had'n't yet.
I'll say he'll never be a fish
Because he won't get wet.

Of course,—the first day he was off
My cash was TWENTY short.
Oh well! You other folks may scoff,
But I enjoy the sport???

The Boss he wrote me yesterday
That oceans don't inspire
To writing Ads,—the kind that pay.
Now this was his desire:

Dear Ethan,
Write an Ad for the Press.
Ad lib. Suit yourself, try poetry, etc.

Yours,
John D.

But twixt the time it takes to eat
And read a book or two,
I find that I cannot repeat
Poetics that will do.

So, as the trade keeps coming in,
The Boss will never know
I skipped his Ad by taking in A moving picture show.

"Construction Adds to Permanent Wealth of Country and Individual"

Wages are paid for the creating of wealth. Wages are labor's share of the wealth it HAS produced, rather than a mortgage on wealth that it WILL produce. Wealth depends upon construction; and in the building field not only does the individual add to his personal wealth, but he adds to the assets of the Nation.

The United States now has more wealth than any other two nations combined.

Every house built, every road constructed, every public building and improvement, is adding to that great accumulation of permanent wealth, making the Nation stronger and stronger. A general, country wide campaign of building, assuming reasonable intelligence is exercised, would do more than any other one thing to increase the permanent wealth of the Nation and the individual. While its permanent wealth is piling up especially when it is in the nature of homes owned by individuals—a nation may have its perplexing problems, but there is nothing serious or dangerous in its industrial status. BOY SCOUTS

SCOUTS IN INDIA GROWING

A letter from the director of the boy scouts of Mysore in India to national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America says in part as follows:

"Our strength has increased to about forty troops with a membership of over nine hundred. I have had fine scoutmaster's training classes at Mysore City and at Bangalore, with a model troop of scouts for demonstration purposes.

"Scout work for Indian boys is developing rapidly all over the country. In Calcutta we have the Boy Scouts of Bengal, which is doing good work both under Indian and European leadership. The great native state of Baroda and the British Central provinces want to start boy scout work, and the government of the native state of Travancore is now considering the introduction of scouting among its boys on the plan of our Mysore organization.

"We have, however, a long way to go, as there are over thirty million boys of scout age in India and we have difficulties here that are unheard of in America—for instance, at least a hundred languages, very deep-seated religious divisions and the ever-present caste question—all of them tremendous challenges to the spirit of the fourth scout law."

SCOUTS SAVE DROWNING BOY.

Ernest H. Collins, Jr., of Denver, 7 years old, escaped drowning in City Park lake due to the presence of mind of two Denver boy scouts who effected his rescue after two gardeners at the park had failed to drag the boy from the cold water.

The quick work which the two scouts, Robert Pleus, 16, and Leroy Hoyt, 17, displayed in the rescue is a single example of the value of the boy scout training.

The Collins boy had been skating and went upon too thin ice. Pleus and Hoyt happened to be passing in a motor car. Seeing the Collins boy's predicament, the scouts rushed to his aid. They cut their shoe strings, and making a rope of their coats, they made a life line for the boy. He took hold of it and was pulled to safety. The boys then wrapped him in a blanket.

BOY SCOUTS AFTER THE DIRT.

Topeka boy scouts are to become junior health officers of the city, in co-operation with the city health department.

The following pledge will be signed by all scouts who become members of the Topeka health service:

"In assuming the duties in the Topeka health service, I agree to hold myself responsible for the distribution of all notices and literature in my district requested by the commissioner of health.

"I further agree to gather any information that may be desired and to report on the health and sanitary situation in my district when asked to do so.

"I agree to assist the Topeka health department in every way I can, with the understanding that I will not be called upon to perform any duty that will interfere with my school work or endanger my health."

MANCHURIA'S SCOUT GREETINGS.

The second detachment of the Boy Scouts of Manchuria, located at Harbin, has sent this letter to national headquarters in this country:

"Dear Brothers: The second detachment of the Boy Scouts of Manchuria sends to you from far Russia warm greetings and cordial congratulations at the birthday of the great teacher of truth, peace and good will towards men. Let the new year be a triumph of justice and happiness for all the unfortunate of the world.

"Do not allow your fatherland to have any more tears in its light eyes. Let the standard of the white rider rise higher in the world."

This is signed by Commander of Detachment Kossiakoff.

SCOUTS TO PLANT WALNUTS.

Letters supporting Chief Scout Executive James E. West's decision that boy scouts should help the government this spring by planting black walnut trees have come to national headquarters from George D. Pratt, New York state conservation commissioner, and from Dr. William T. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological society.

"I guess that's so. I went out there unexpected the other day and noticed she served up a burnt offering."

Making Home Grounds Attractive

(By the U. S. Department of Agriculture)

In laying out the grounds around the farmhouse it is important to have them no larger than the available labor can keep in good condition. Small grounds well cared for are much more attractive than larger ones which have been allowed to run down. On the majority of farms, say specialists in the United States department of agriculture, two acres will be found sufficient for all the needs of the farmstead.

Gardens for fruits, vegetables and flowers should always be provided, and if they are located near the house they will not only be convenient, but they will add greatly to the appearance of the whole place. Three-fourths of an acre to an acre will furnish about all the fruit and vegetables a farmer's family will need. The fruit orchard may also be utilized as a chicken run.

There should always be provision for a clothes yard or a place where clothes may be hung out to dry, and for a service yard, where wood may be conveniently piled for use. These yards, however, should be as secluded as possible, and it may be necessary to shut them off by the skillful planting of bushes and vines. The yards themselves, however, should not be cut up by putting shrubs or beds of flowers in them.

In planting trees and shrubbery a complete plan should be drawn up beforehand and then carried out as circumstances permit. This is much more satisfactory in the end than haphazard planting each year, because it permits ultimately of the completion of a well-thought-out scheme for the beautification of the place.

Among the objects that one should have in view should be the screening of such objectionable sights as dilapidated buildings, barnyards, piles of discarded rubbish, etc. Attractive views may be framed in foliage and a border of plants around a lawn enhances the beauty of the well-cared-for grass.

In the selection of plants it is unnecessary and, in fact, inadvisable, to pick out a great number of different varieties. It is much better to select a few that are known to do well in the locality in question. Among those that thrive over a wide area are spirea, privet, dogwood, honeysuckle, hydrangea, mock orange, wild rose and forsythia. Coniferous evergreens and broad-leaved evergreen shrubs should also be planted in order that there may be some touch of color around the place even in the winter. It is not necessary to spend a large amount of money in obtaining appropriate plants or trees. Many native shrubs like dogwood, elder, sumach, etc., may be brought from near-by woods at the cost of the labor, and vines like bittersweet, five-leaved ivy, honeysuckle, clematis, etc., may be obtained without cost. A very few cents will provide flower and grass seeds which properly used will work a transformation in the grounds.

TIPS FOR POULTRY GROWERS

Those who neglect to provide shade for their hens during the trying summer months are likely to regret it. The fowls must have comfort as well as food.

If the yards have no shade it will pay to provide it even though it takes some time and labor.

Shade is regarded as one of the important items in the care of the flock for the summer. When the hot days come on many poultry breeders transfer the hens and young chickens to the orchard or to a woodlot. Where shade is not available a temporary structure six by ten feet square and four feet high is erected; this is covered with burlap or canvas. An ideal place for young fowls is near to the edge of a corn field where they can have shade, scratching places and can find many insects.

Australia Lost 307,900 Men Out of an Army of 400,000

Australia's total casualties during the war, with figures brought up to February, 1919, totaled 307,900, according to a statement made public by the government of the commonwealth. The total forces of Australia raised by voluntary enlistment numbered 400,000 out of a total population of less than 5,000,000. The casualties are divided as follows: Dead, 58,035; missing, 193; prisoners, 438; wounded, 106,606; sick, 82,409; unspecified, 219.

Indiana Youngsters Make Good Profit in Operating Back Yard Fish-Worm Farm

This is a worm story and it concerns fishermen, anglers, three boys and the unusual but profitable business in which the lads are engaged. All the facts scrambled together and the result—the angle worm company of Indianapolis, Mike Cain, aged twelve, president.

Three years ago the boys, who were playmates, were offered a dime by a merchant to get him a quart of angle worms. That was their start, and during the seasons for angle worms since then they have built up a trade which last year called for them to supply about ten gallons of worms a week to fishermen. At the close of the 1918 season they decided to form a company and announcements were sent to customers recently that the company would supply the worms to the trade this year.

A "worm farm" has been developed in the back yard of the president. The worms are fed at regular intervals and cared for as a farmer would his livestock or a poultry fancier his chickens. Almost every day boys add to the stock on hand by digging in places where experience has taught them worms are certain to be found.

If one wants ordinary worms he can get them cheaper than he can "the big striped, fat ones" which the company advertises as choice, and the ones fish in creeks and rivers like best. The "choicer" stock is retailed at 10 cents a quart more than the ordinary worms. The company pays no taxes, no rent, has bought only an occasional spade or bucket, and has no financial losses. However, the president said he is not certain some of the worms have not crawled away.

Fox Raising Real Industry.

An industry that was begun some years ago as a hobby, that of fox raising, has now grown into a real industry profitable to those engaged in it. In all the provinces of Canada and in many of the northern states fox-raising is carried on extensively. The Japanese and Norwegians also are developing this idea, having suitable climatic conditions for the raising of foxes for the fur market.

SPRAY CONTROLS GRAPE ROT

Vines Should Be Sprayed With Bordeaux Mixture in Spring as Buds Begin to Swell.

(By JOHN H. CARMODY, Kentucky Experiment Station.)

Frequent complaint is reaching the experiment station regarding a disease that is attacking the grapes. Upon investigation this trouble is usually found to be due to a parasitic fungus known as black rot.

This is by no means a new trouble, as it is very general in all of the sections where the grape is grown. Black rot first shows itself upon the berries and leaves. Usually the berries are most seriously affected and the disease manifests itself upon the latter by small, clear-cut brown spots. These spots gradually enlarge until all of the berries on the stem are affected. It is a noticeable fact that the diseased berries do not shed but continue to cling to the vine long after the grape season is past. It is needless to say that this serves as a means whereby the disease is carried over from one season to another.

Fortunately for the persons interested in grape culture this trouble can be readily kept in control. Where only a few vines are grown the practice of bagging the bunches in order to ward off the spore may be used. The bunches should be covered early in the season after the blooming season is over. The ordinary paper sacks do very well. The principal point to keep in mind is to pin the top of the bag securely so that it will exclude the entrance of the spores. It is also a good plan to clean the vineyard of any old litter, such as leaves and pruned canes, as soon as convenient.

Spraying with bordeaux mixture is perhaps one of the most reliable means of control. Where the trouble is known to exist the vines should be thoroughly sprayed in the spring just as the buds are swelling. This application should be repeated several times during the summer. The number of applications will depend somewhat on the nature of the season. If the season happens to be dry a fewer number of applications will be needed than if the season is warm and moist.

Bordeaux mixture for this purpose may be prepared as follows: Dissolve four pounds of copper sulphate (blue stone) and four pounds of stone lime separately in 25 gallons of water. Then pour the two together into a 50-gallon barrel and stir thoroughly. The best way to dissolve the copper sulphate is to suspend it in a cloth bag in water overnight. Care should be taken not to let it come in contact with any metal. Pumps should be brass lined where bordeaux is to be used.

PARTIAL SHADE FOR BERRIES

In Southern Limits of Their Range Currants and Gooseberries Do Better if Shaded.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Currants and gooseberries commonly do better, especially in the southern limits of their range, if grown where there is partial shade. This sometimes can be provided by planting them between fruit trees. Raspberries and blackberries are sometimes planted between trees, but the practice is not advisable unless the soil is naturally moist and fertile.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty."

I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years' experience is at your service.

A Quaker had gotten himself into trouble with the authorities and the Sheriff called to escort him to the lock-up.

"Is your husband in?" he inquired of the good wife who came to the door.

"My husband will see three," she replied. "Come in."

The Sheriff entered, was bidden to make himself at home, and was hospitably entertained for half an hour, but no husband appeared. At last the Sheriff grew impatient.

"Look here," said he, "I thought you said your husband would see me."

"He has seen thee," was the calm reply, "but he did not like thy looks and has gone another way."—Harper's Magazine.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER

It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach.

Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

Trials and Tribulations Of the Ever-Patient and Careful Schoolteacher

A schoolteacher is a person who teaches things to people when they are young. The teacher comes to school at 8:30 o'clock, and when she has gotten enough children for a mess in her home she teaches them reading, writing, geography, grammar, arithmetic, music, drawing, cooking, board sawing, crocheting, deep breathing, bird calls, scientific eating, patriotism, plain and fancy bathing, forestry, civics, and other sciences too numerous to mention. When school is out, she stays behind with five or six of her worst scholars and tries to save the state the job of reforming them later on.

After that she hurries home to make herself a new dress and snatch a hasty supper before going back to attend a lecture by an imported specialist on the history of tribal law in Patagonia, which the superintendent thinks may be useful in her school work some day. A great many lecturers raid the country, preying on schoolteachers, and some of them are very cruel, talking to them so long that the poor things have to sit up until morning, when they get home to get their daily test papers corrected.

Schoolteachers' salaries range from $30 a month up, but not far enough up to make them dizzy. On her salary the teacher must dress nicely, buy herself things for her work which the city is too poor to get, go to 29 lectures and concerts a year, buy helpful books on pedagogy, pay her way to district, county and state institutes, and enjoy herself during a three-months' vacation, which her salary takes every year. In addition, the teacher is supposed to board away vast sums of money, so that when she becomes too nervous and cross to teach, at the age of fifty or thereabouts, she can retire and live happily ever after on her income.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Origin of Word "Miniature." Small, Hand-Painted Portrait

The origin of the "miniature" is as follows: In the golden days of Roman literature, to be a successful author was to be as great as a king, for kings looked to their poets for immortality, as Augustus Caesar did to Horace. Hence it was to be expected that authors would feel their importance and display more or less vanity. One of their weaknesses was to see their portrait painted in artistic fashion in their parchment books. This work was entrusted to artists called "miniatures," that is, artists whose work was largely done in vermilion, a color extracted from cinnabar, and called by the Romans "minium." The "miniatures" chose the oval form for their beautiful brilliant portraits on the parchment books, and hence the origin of the term "miniature," a small hand-painted oval or round portrait.

SMILES FOR ALL

Off Duty.
"When the reporter called on Mme. Topofsky she was reclining on a divan in a 'Lucille' negligee, smoking a cigarette and feeding bonbons to her poodle while a solicitous maid hovered in the background."

"What are you describing anyway? A prima donna in her boudoir?"
"No. One of our parlor bolsheviks resting after a strenuous meeting held in behalf of the downtrodden masses."

Lame Excuse.

"Henry, I'm ashamed of you."
"What's the matter, my dear?"
"I caught you flirting with that waitress."
"I was just trying to establish the entente cordiale, my love. That's the only way to get any service in this place."

Brutal Materialism.

"Too many husbands," said Senator Kendrick in a discussion of divorce, "take a brutally materialistic view of marriage."

"I don't want my wife to go away," a banker said in my hearing the other day.

"Moved, I patted him on the arm.

"Ah, you dread the separation, eh?" I said.

"Yep," he answered curtly—"the separation from the coin."

Taken by Surprise.

"What happened in the parlor, sis?"
"Mr. Timmid started to kiss me."
"Weren't you surprised?"
"Yes, I was so surprised that I fear I got matters all bungled up."

Had to Be.

"I hear the newlyweds across the street had a falling out yesterday."

"How was that?"

"Their rear tire blew up."

Better Case.

"I wonder why Jones allows his wife to dominate over him. He has the natural right to rule in the family."

"Yes, but she has the rich uncle."

The Mission of Swift & Company

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs—and the men have the right to answer:

To promote the production of live stock and perishables and increase the food supply;

To reach more people with more and better meat;

To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their capital, and to provide for the future development of the business;

To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;

To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

These are the purposes and motives of the men who direct the policies and practices of Swift & Company.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin. If your drugist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.

Post War Stagnation In Industry

An Analysis of the Situation.
The Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce, recently appointed,
is addressing itself to the problem of post war stagnation in commerce and industry, and issues a preliminary analysis
of the factors to be considered.

I. The Condition:

(a) Although
1. Commercial stocks are depleted.

2. There is plenty of money.
3. Building and construction are several years in arrears of necessity.
4. A long period of enforced economy is greatly relieved.

5. Markets are in prospect in parts of the world.

(b) Still

1. Buying is timid and has been decreasing in volume.
2. Money is also timid and remains in bank.
3. Some mills and factories are idle—few are running full.
4. Construction of public and private works has not begun.

5. Nonemployment is spreading.

11. The Cause.—(a) War required production abnormally increased generally and abnormally increased respecting certain commodities especially needed for war. This irregular increase was secured by enormously increased prices.
Consequently the sudden termination of war left a highly inflated and very irregular market which is generally far above what the peace demand will support and which is not homogeneous, many prices being abnormally above their place in the normal pattern.

(b) This situation was originally created by the abnormal operation of supply and demand, stimulated by the great need of European countries for war materials before this country entered the war, but after we entered the war the law
of supply and demand was adjourned
and was replaced by such new and powerful forces as priority certificates, compulsory and commandeering orders, export and import restrictions, and price fixing. These forces worked through comprehensive agreements and co-operation between the government and industry. Therefore, it may fairly be stated that the existing condition was not brought about by the normal operation
of law of supply and demand.

(c) The normal operation of the law of supply and demand can not cure what it did not cause, first because it can not operate until buying begins, and second because buying can not begin until we have a more normal, stable and homogeneous market.

(d) Everybody knows that some prices must fall. No one dares buy until they do fall and then everybody will wait to see how far they fall. Individual action in lowering selling prices is therefore timid, unscientific, and long drawn out.
It can not render the market uniform or stable, but on the contrary, renders it unstable, dangerous and panicky. The law of supply and demand would cure
the situation eventually, but can we afford to wait, first through a period of suspicion and uncertainty, then through a panic crash in all markets, and then through chaotic readjustment? By sane and temperate action all this can be avoided and the law of supply and demand helped over the gap between hold-over
war prices and a stable level.

(e) Some unequally results from government accumulation of facilities and raw, finished and partly finished material, which must be sold very carefully into the market. This situation requires the co-operation and advice of industry.

III. The Remedy.

(a) The condition must be cured as it was caused. It was not caused by normal operation of the law of supply and demand but by general comprehensive co-operation and agreement between industry and government. It must be cured by the same kind of co-operation and agreement—a consummation possible only at the instance and with the approval of the government.

(b) Wholesome co-operation in American business at government instance was proved in War Industries Board W.
I. B. government control as practiced by the W. I. B. is no longer necessary, but co-operation and agreement in industry
at government instance with government approval is necessary to bring the law
of supply and demand back into normal
operation and to let loose prosperity.

(c) To this end the President has authorized a board, largely of W. I. B.
men, operating on W. I. B. ideals, minus W. I. B. control, to call industry together group by group, and let them decide on prices to be offered to the nation
as the governmentally approved judgement of assembled industry on price scale low enough to be stable, homogeneous throughout the whole fabric, and founded on a comprehensive review of conditions as to encourage general buying and including that of the railroads and other governmental agencies, and the resumption of normal activities.

IV. Results to Be Achieved.

(a) Basic commodities such as steel, building material, textiles, and food will be considered first and brought to a stable basis. The governmental policy, as expressed by the bill to authorize purchase by the government of wheat at Camp Roberts Is The Place Boys!

Camp Roberts. Who's Who at Camp Roberts? Any son in Santa Clara County Y. M. C. A. territory who goes—and makes a good, true, manly, Christian sport of himself.

From Committee To Parents The record at Camp Roberts in 1917 was highly satisfactory—ask the boys who were there! We look forward to a most successful season. The leadership this year will be strong and the program of activity suited to the purpose—the stimulation of potential boy-power into sturdy young manhood. You are urged to settle the matter of registration at the earliest possible moment. The fees charged will barely cover the cost of camp operation, and do not in any way pay for the weeks of preparation and time of the secretary in charge, nor does this fee include transportation to and from the camp, which is extra. If you are doubtful regarding any point in connection with this camp, if you will call up or write to C. M. Hamsher, Chairman of County Committee. He will gladly answer any questions and invites your investigation and correspondence. Every boy who is eligible who can possibly avail himself of this opportunity for one of the very best outings he could have should not miss this camp.

And you ask, What Should I Take? Two heavy blankets and comforts (or equivalent). Extra trousers (overalls or khakis are best). An extra pair of heavy shoes. Changes of shirts, stockings and underwear. Towels, soap, toothbrush, comb or brush. Sweater or coat, Pajamas or night shirt, A small Bible, and a Bathing suit. Do not take a trunk. (Use a suit case, or sack.)

AND FOR EATS Each boy is expected to bring two quarts of canned fruit, four glasses of jelly, or three pounds of dried peaches, apricots or raisins. Friends willing to contribute such supplies in large quantities, please notify your county secretary who will gladly arrange for shipment.

THESE THINGS WILL HELP Baseball equipment, kodak, musical instrument, (these may be cared for in headquarters tent) fishing tackle, books, games, track suit, money, flash lamp. Mark everything to insure against loss.

will insure the highest enjoyment and benefit to all. A council composed of leaders and boys will decide matters of discipline. All Associations include the following rules in camp NO FIRE ARMS. SWIMMING AT STATED TIMES
AND UNDER CAMP SUPERVISOR. NO TOBACCO.

REMEMBER—Overnight camping at seashore, and hikes to the hills and the mountains surrounding camp. Secretary and leaders offer free instruction in swimming, diving, games and other sports. CAMP SPIRIT—Each boy will help by cooperating in camp "chores" as well as in other activities. Expenses—$2.00 down with application; $12.00 more in complete payment, payable with acceptance of application—or any time previous to June 25 making total cash payment of $14.
MAIL CAMP BANK, STORE and we hope some good DOCTOR who is fond of boys and camping and the great out of doors will be wanting an outing and will bivouac with the boys.

TRANSPORTATION—Interested parents, or other interested people wishing to take a load of boys or baggage—or both—to camp are asked to notify Mr. Chas. Hicks or a committee man; those not provided for in this way will go by truck from

Across The Continent On Troop Train

Mr. H. C. Smith in Y. M. C. A. service, arrived in Campbell on Tuesday evening after a busy week traveling across the continent with a troop train of Uncle Sam's Yanks. These boys were part of the 20th Engineers, and Hoboken casual companies, 371 to be discharged at Camp Funston, and 579, at Presidio. The first and last Companies were California boys and a more joyful homeward bound bunch could not be found in the land. The train left Dumont (Camp Merritt,) New Jersey Wednesday afternoon in almost unbearable sweltering heat, carrying 14 cars of "Yelling Yanks" and two mess cars passing up the west side of the beautiful scenic Hudson almost to Albany, thence across New York state to Buffalo. From the Hudson through half of Arizona the boys were carried through a veritable garden and as they often expressed it "this is God's country." The plentiful rains have made prospects the best ever seen in some states. Arriving in Cleveland in the morning "Mr. Y-man" brought aboard a barrel of Baldwin apples which were very much appreciated by the boys.

During the trip the "Y" gave the boys gum, candy, fruit, magazines, and new papers and a regular plunge in the big "Y" swimming pool at Albuquerque. If the Yanks enjoy one thing more than another, it is cleanliness. A most enjoyable surprise was the meeting of "Mr. Y" with John Wood and Ira Brown, two old Campbell boys who were on the same troop train. It will be remembered that these boys had the notable experience of being "sunk at sea" while crossing in the Tuscania. These boys of the 20th engineers have some very interesting tales to tell of their wonderful experiences. John did his K. P. duties juggling treats from one end of the train to the other for his old "Y" friend.

the guaranteed price and resale of it to the world price, is to assist in bringing prices of basic commodities to normalcy
by bringing down the cost of living. It is hoped that these steps alone will au-tomatically operate to reduce the price of fabricated articles. If they do not do so in any particular case, the industry affected will be invited into conference.

(b) As soon as stable and wholesome scale of prices is achieved, the cost of living will have so far been reduced as to create automatically reduction in the price of labor without interfering with American standards and ideals for the treatment and living condition of labor and thus the last inflating element will have been withdrawn from prices. It is believed that industry will agree that the cost of living must be substantially reduced before labor should be asked to accept lower wages and thus industry

should stand the first shock of readjustment.

Pleasant Picnic enjoyed

The Country Woman's Club enjoyed a delightful day Monday at the home of Mrs. Lillie Shaw. Her attractive lawn with its beautiful shade trees proved an ideal setting for a garden picnic.
A splendid dinner served Cafeteria style
was a very nice beginning to a pleasant day. A short business meeting was followed by an informal program concluding with music on the victrola.

The ladies separated with many expressions of appreciation to their hostess for the use of her pretty yard and the pleasant time they had had.

The assurance to the country of a market stabilized at the lowest reasonable expected level, which will loosen such a flood of buying for the recreation of stocks, the making up of arrears, in the building program, the feeding of needs long starved by economy and the invasion of world markets, as may stand unprecedented in this country. From the stable level thus reached by co-operation,
we expect a healthy and normal condition created by the complete and unhindered operation of the law of sup-
